Environment Begins with an “E”

...Clean Water, clean air and protection against the pollution of your property by others...

These are the long standing principles of environmental action that form a core value system underlying individual liberty and private property.

Today, the meaning of “the environment” has taken on a greatly expanded definition. I’m going to examine the new meaning of “environment” and place that meaning within the globalist movement’s efforts to “change” American systems of economics and justice. In order to accomplish this I am going to examine the fully grown national commitment to “saving the environment” and how that commitment is accomplishing broad globalist agendas.

The national agenda for the environment translates into thousands of “Local Action Plans”. These plans seek to achieve:

Globalist Green Programmes

- Collectivize water
- Create connecting” Wildland” corridors and fill them with wild and dangerous animals
- Internationalize the oceans and all ocean product
- Centralize the production of all timber product
- Reduce human mobility
- Relocate people and housing into “Smart Growth” zones

The green machine in Sonoma County, like its equivalent in Santa Cruz, is run by the County's Planning Department with support from the County Counsel and Board of Supervisors and various NGO's.

Here are a few examples of Sonoma County's commitment to this agenda:

1. Efforts have been made to meter private wells in this County.

Santa Cruz's Pajaro Valley began metering wells in the late 80's. By the early 90's a tax was placed on the draw of one's own water. By 2000 the tax was $200 an acre foot. Over $40 million was collected by the water agency. In 2002 the agency was sued. In 2007 the appellate courts ordered a return of the monies.

The plan had been to use the tax to fund the construction of pipeline carrying water from the central valley in order to deposit it into the Pajaro aquifer. Under recent state law revision, the commingling of water sources eliminates the overlying land owner's property right in water. The farmers were being set up! Only a timely filed lawsuit saved free enterprise farming in the Pajaro Valley.

Today, Sonoma County is calling for "voluntary metering". The planning behind that call is unknown. But be assured the attack on water rights will continue. Form a defense – a close watch is necessary.

2. Living units are being approved in Sonoma that have no garages. The trend is to approve housing units with housing upstairs and business enterprises downstairs. These units will be jammed along public transportation routes in order to get you out of your car. In the name of the environment of course! Insiders around the world call this new method of living Smart Growth.
3. Rural residents will face increasing pressures in order that they too turn to live in Smart Growth communities. Take the recent requirement that all water courses come with a 100 foot setback. These attacks will grow. NIMBYs who have supported rural land use restrictions are finding that they become the victims of today's environmental restrictions. First they came for the....

4. Biotic habitat zoning is coming to Sonoma! This effort, when undertaken in Santa Cruz was defeated by active engagement by a few well informed citizens. Many counties in California have adopted Habitat Conservation measures. These measures are designed to implement "Wildland" zone. These are areas to be made void of humanity presence or influences. This is how green meets confiscation. This is how green defeats human progress. The resource shortages following Wildland designations will promote human population reduction targets.
5. The Green movement's legislative grand daddy is the Endangered Species Act. The Tiger Salamander has been labeled an inhabitant of Sonoma County. Masses of landscape throughout the state have been decreed as tiger salamander habitat. Woe to the owners of these lands! Estimates are that the designation has cost the local economy 900 million dollars as land owners lose the use of their land.
6. Sonoma 2020 is a prototype Sustainable Development County General Plan. The same title even appears across the state. Coordinate your local understanding by reference to the 2020 process.
7. Remember how in the middle ages the Church sold indulgences that promised to absolve actions in order to get a ticket to heaven. Our modern form of indulgence is Carbon Credits. This scheme allows people like Al Gore to remain in his 10,000 sq foot and still earn the praise of environmentalists. He is buying "carbon credits" – his ticket to a green heaven while continuing to live lavishly. The scheme is growing.

This financing scheme is used to further the green objective: the abolition of private property. By wary of locals who follow the carbon credit path.

And remember this: In the 1920's Communist dictator V. Lenin said, "Few of our agents understand our philosophy most are simply useful idiots".

This is a partial overview of Sustainable organizations operating in or influencing Sonoma policy. I like to call it the Sustainable fifth column in Sonoma! Just give a light review to this web posting easily located by combining Sustainable Development and Sonoma County on a Google search.

SUSTAINABLE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT for SONOMA COUNTY

A sustainable economy requires a robust, recession resistant local economy and a dynamic and competitive export trade economy.

Chapter 2

The Three E's of Sustainable Development

The environmental movement does not act in philosophical isolation. To really understand the environmental movement one must also understand the three E's of Sustainable Development. Sustainable Development is the local implementation of the globalist master plan to create world governance in accordance with principles that deny the existence of unalienable rights. Amazingly, there is wide, even predominant, political support in the US for Sustainable Development.

Let's look at the nature and the support for the three E's of Sustainable Development. The E's are Equity, Economics, and the Environment. Here is a slogan used by the proponents:

Let's take a look behind the green curtain and see what is there.

Equity, the first "E", means to restructure human nature. Like Communism, it is a system of "social justice" that works to abolish the American concept of equal justice in order to pursue the globalist ideal of "common good". Pursuit of a centrally determined "common good" ultimately requires a police state to suppress individual freedoms.

Economy, the second "E", relies on Fabian socialist economics. This, like Italian Fascism, relies on business that wants the protection of government's legal force and government that wants the power of business. Today, this is called “Public-Private Partnership”.

Sustainable Development redefines free trade to mean centralized global trade “freely” crossing national borders. This affects an international redistribution of American financial and natural resources.

United Nations accredited Non-Governmental Organizations and other “non-profits” are used as bridges to transform the American economy system. The goal is the destruction of free enterprise and abolition of private property step by step. Sustainable Development policy accounts for the “outsourcing” of domestic industry, the rise of national indebtedness and the proceeding loss of national sovereignty. The idea that each of us has a life that is our own is being abandoned. This is what the Green movement fronts. We must learn to become wary of green policy!

Environment, the third “E” is not really about “saving” nature. Rather it is about a revolutionary coup in America. It is to establish global governance and abandon the principles of Natural Law. Sustainable Developers are committed to abolish private property and to destroy individual liberty, equal justice and limited government.

Sustainable Development uses a link-by-link approach to:

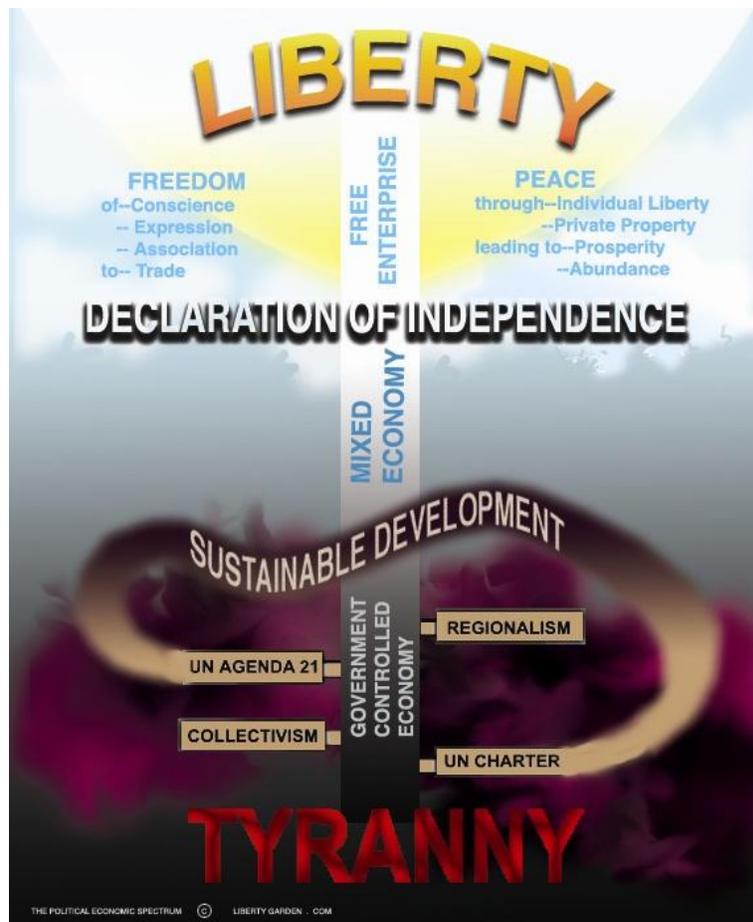

- Subvert the principles of the Declaration of Independence
- Destroy the governing authority of the United States Constitution
- Turn America - indeed any sovereign nation – into a globally governed “homeland” where human beings are treated as biological resources subject to “human rights”

The politically based Green movement camouflages Sustainable Developers in their work to transform the American systems of justice, economics and government.

Chapter 3.

Sustainable Development Is Reordering America

America and the world are being reordered. On the world scene, America pursues a “preemptive” foreign policy with bloody results. Within America, town and county reordering is largely bloodless.

- American schools largely ignore the foundational basis of freedom – the recognition of individual’s unalienable rights.
- Financial interests in America are becoming lost in the increasingly inevitable collapse of America’s “fiat” or funny money system.
- Politicians think America is a democracy and that they direct our course.

Uneasiness is rising in mainstream America. People know that something is wrong - and that it is getting worse. What do we do?

People must understand the nature of Liberty or human freedom will be lost.

The big step in preserving liberty is to understand the scheme behind the reordering of America.

In short, the scheme is the globalist philosophy's attacks on unalienable rights. These attacks include:

1. Abolition of private property
2. Change to global governance based on public decree, not individual rights
3. Reduce human population

America's Declaration of Independence established that government exists to protect each individual's unalienable right to his life, liberty and property. The globalists wish to overrule this concept and "change" forever the cornerstone for tomorrow's American experience.

At its essence, the globalist regime seeks to destroy the concept of unalienable rights. Remember the environmental movement is front for something far broader!

We are on the threshold of mankind's greatest defeat. Our liberty is being lost under pressure of national and global crisis. This is occurring under the banner of Sustainable Development policy. If we lose this battle, liberty will be lost and the human experience will become dark – for a very long time.

As liberty fades, technology will be the agent of an elite's subjugation of humanity.

Let's explore Sustainable Development philosophy and policy

The Sustainable Development philosophy is designed to bring human beings across the globe under the control of human elite. Sustainable Developers designed a global movement to be coordinated through a global-to-local action plans. The goal is to create world governance in accordance with specific objectives.

These objectives include:

- An end to national sovereignty
- Abolishing private property
- Restructuring the family unit
- Increased limits and restrictions on mobility
- Increased limits and restrictions on individual opportunity

The methods employed to achieve these objectives are being funded by the federal government. The objectives are being achieved via a thousand points of darkness including:

- U.S. monetary policy
- Tax policy
- Water policy
- Environmental policy
- War policy
- Education policy
- Foreign policy

The focus of Sustainable Development is to abolish private property, push societal undermining of the family and abandon Constitutional protection of unalienable rights. Green is a major tool designed to lure the people into a massive loss of human dignity and potential.

In America, the globalist Sustainable Development movement is comprised of:

- The Democrat party leadership
- The Republican party leadership and association (www.IDU.org)
- Communist anarchists
- Libertarian anarchists
- Greens
- Public/private partnerships including many multinational corporations
- Socialists
- Neo Conservatives
- Capitalists
- 'Third Way' Fabians

- Something for everyone!

Consensus among the political types has been declared! Ordinary Americans will pay the price – the price is a loss of their liberty.

The Decay of Liberty – an illustration

The American culture is experiencing the consequence of a decline of individual responsibility and a rise in dependency. The principle of genuine free trade that guides an honest economy has been abandoned. Instead we live with increasing subsidies, barriers to entry, government regulation and government intervention into the lives of what could and should be a free citizenry. The ethics of special interest politics vest power in the hands of big government liberals and big government conservatives while our freedoms vanish.

The consequence of this decline has been an alteration of the purpose of American social, political and economic institutions. One example is charity. In a free society, charity receives contributions from some in order to help others. In essence, charity is both a broker and an agent of benevolence. But in modern society, many charities are 501(c) (3)'s that seek grants of coerced tax revenue in exchange for regulatory compliance to government mandates. As a consequence, the incentives for charitable action are shifted from genuine benevolence to the creation of a growing case load. This growing case load is dependent upon the receipt of ever larger government grants. Coercive sources of money are incompatible with benevolent giving; shifting charitableness from benevolence to bureaucracy contributes to social decay.

The cause of this decay is not accidental. It can be traced in part at least to the political globalist movement. Now, as opposed to forty years ago, there is a documented plan for the creation of a global state collective and it is called "Sustainable Development."

Linking the Globalist Dots Operating In America Today

Connecting the Dots

- Funny money
- Abolition of Private Property
- Communitarian
- Educational Indoctrination
- The left/right Artificial Dialectic

© 2007 FREEDOMADVOCATES.org

Here are examples of circumstances to help you connect the dots:

Funny money

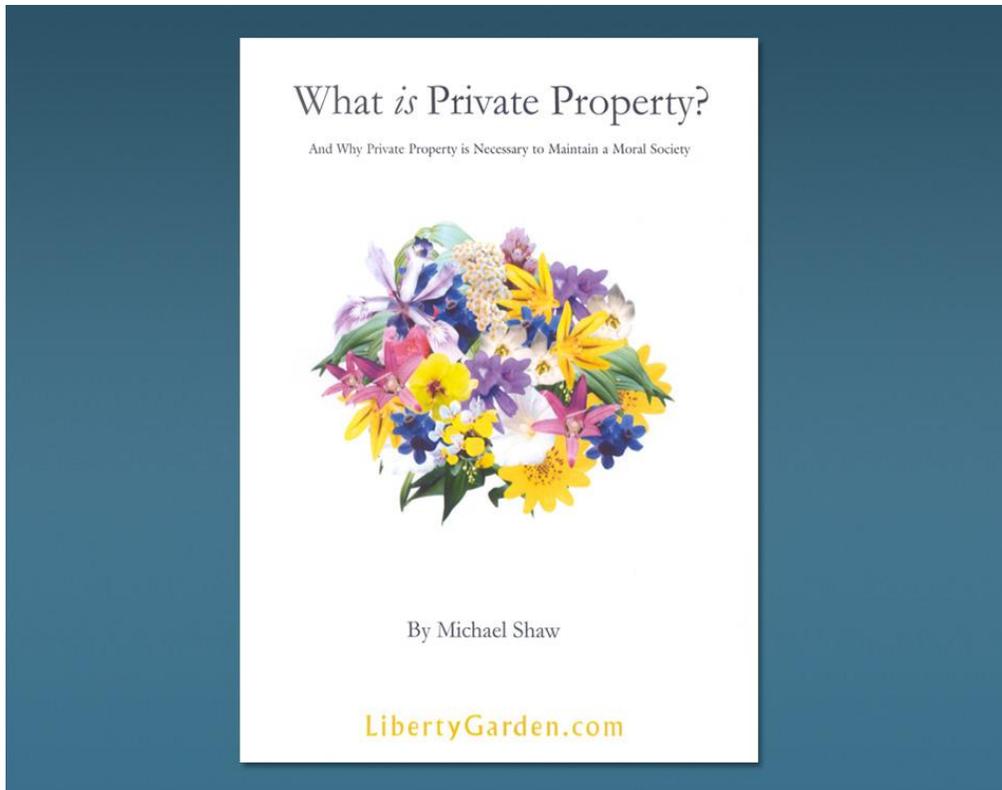

U.S. Federal Reserve notes are funny money with no real backing. These notes are simply decreed, printed and therefore “fiat”. Throughout history fiat money has always ended in failure. Consider the following:

1. How long before the Federal Reserve or a successor issues new American currency?
2. What would destruction of today’s fiat dollar bring to ordinary people?
3. Would it lead to repressive and controlling changes in our form of government?

To analyze sustainable methodology you need to understand our monetary system and how it perpetuates a globalist control system. Aaron Russo’s; “America:

Freedom to Fascism” explains our globalist, unconstitutional money system as does Ed Griffin’s treatise; “The Creature from Jekyll Island”. To get your copies, visit www.FreedomAdvocates.org. Then spread the word!

Abolish private property

To further your understanding you need to recognize the efforts to abolish private property

Sustainable Developers are changing the American economic system from free enterprise to Public-Private Partnership. In a free society, understanding the role of private property is the key to a successful defense of individual liberty. George Washington said it succinctly: “Private property and freedom are inseparable”.

Communitarian Law

To understand the big picture, you need to recognize the advance of so-called Communitarian Law. This is moving us from equal justice to a system of “social justice”. American law is being transformed to meet the “equity” requirements of Sustainable Development. Original American law was written to protect the individual. The evolving Communitarian principles protect the interests of “society” as discerned by a manipulative elite power base and their field agents.

Educational indoctrination

Many will understand the globalist takeover in America when they realize the level of educational indoctrination in our government schools. For several years I have asserted that California has made “the environment” central to the teaching of all school subjects through legislation. In May, 2007 the Santa Cruz County Office of Education announced it plans to include environmental agenda in ALL subject areas in ALL grades. A similar program is being introduced in 19 other California counties.

It is important that mom and dad find out just what is happening in their schools.

The Federal Department of Education has proclaimed 2006 to 2015 as the “Decade of Sustainable Development Education”.

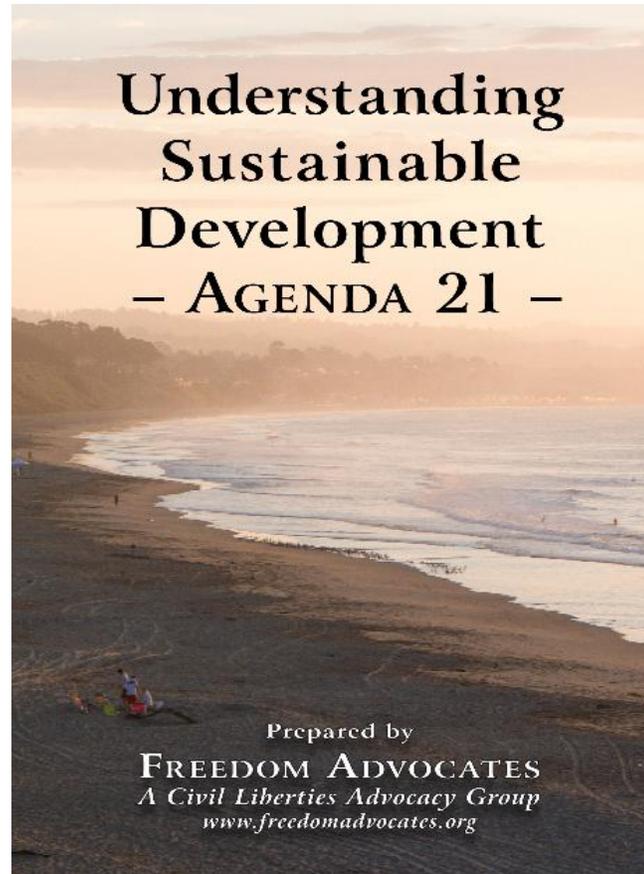

This puts responsibility for our children’s educational growth in dangerous hands. You need to take appropriate action to protect your children and lead others to an understanding of this issue.

Sustainable Development and Smart Growth are global collectivism. The goal is to abolish private property and end the American era of equal justice both promoted under the green banner. These programs have made substantial advance at all levels of American government and business.

Drastically reducing human population is a tenet of Sustainable Development. To create a global-to-local connection, it operates locally. It creates political regions to eliminate political boundaries.

Sustainable Developers, as did their predecessors, cloud the issues while operating in the shadows. They design and promote plans that will subjugate humanity to a “new order.”

Obtain and circulate our core pamphlet that is circulating worldwide. Remember the fight is local!

This evolving political/economic movement has moved at a turtle's pace for over a century. Their leaders have long promised that the turtle will become a hare as the 'change' takes place.

Is now that time?

It is time to understand the threat, defend liberty and spread the word!

An artificial Dialectic is a contrived or man-made process that poses seemingly opposite objectives. The intent is to create a predetermined outcome. This is a form of psychological manipulation that identifies a "thesis" and corresponding "antithesis". In an artificial Dialectic the thesis and the antithesis are chosen and pursued to achieve a predetermined "synthesis" - the real objective of the sponsors.

The challenge for these manipulators is to bracket the public’s “choice” between contrasting alternatives. Each alternative is predicated on legal positivism. Under a legal positivism régime the “rights” of man are granted and revoked. For example, there is no philosophical difference between human rights and animal rights.

The artificial Dialectic right wing “thesis” is formed by people and organizations who advocate combining the force of government with the power of business or Public-Private Partnerships.

The artificial Dialectic left wing populist “antithesis” is designed to rally groups of people around the concept of social justice. Social justice is: Using the law to engineer society. The objective of Sustainable Development is to end the era of equal justice.

You say, “Not possible. Americans would never accept a silent tyranny’s revolution!” Consider these questions:

- Will Americans accept an old game wrapped in a new cover?
- Will Americans accept an evolving Fabian system of central, controlled and managed economics that abolishes private property and free enterprise using an authoritarian justice system; if it is wrapped in a “new” central organizing principle?

Such is the purpose of the environmental movement. The Green Curtain masks human subjugation.

Sustainable Environmentalism attempts to put nature before ordinary man. This subordinates man’s property, liberty and life to elitist manipulation made in the name of the environment! It is essential that you recognize the central purpose behind today’s environmental scares. This is the artificial Dialectic behind Sustainable troubles. Artificial Dialectic is fueled by Environmental scares.

The phony “battle” between right and left is moving society downward, step-by-step, toward the transformation of America.

Sustainable Development is the synthesis of the artificial dialectic. The purpose of Sustainable Development is to create a government controlled society.

Here are some budding examples of emerging efforts to take down liberty piece by piece in 2008:

The Trans Texas Corridor

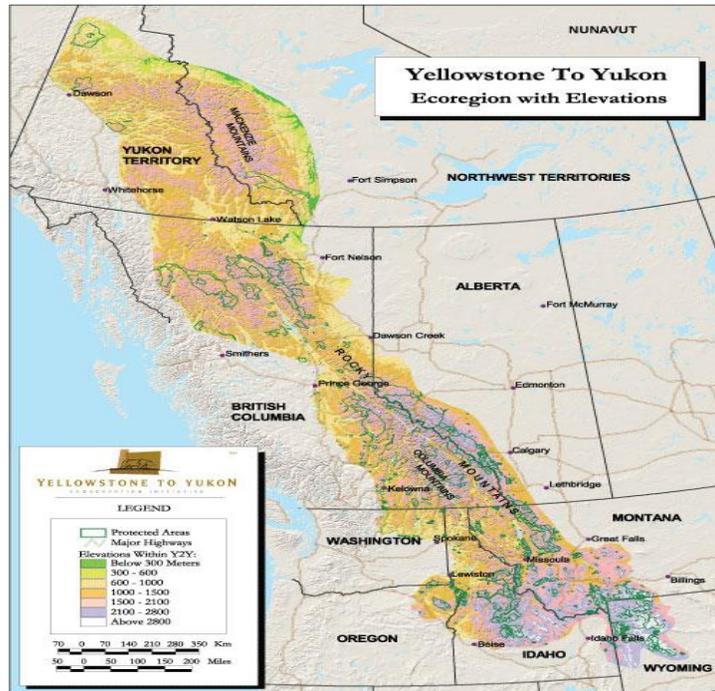

The Trans Texas Corridor is a Public-Private Partnership (PPP) between the state of Texas and Cintra, a Spanish corporation. The Corridor will open borders and give an open landing in America. This colossal road will infuse political and economic Sustainable Globalism into and throughout America. The transportation and communication corridor is being built in Mexico and prepped for the US. It will offer a direct flow, throughout the US, of Chinese product without border customs. The consequences of creating this PPP include an economic, and perhaps a military, Trojan horse.

The Trans Texas Corridor is the literal pathway to economic equalization of nations. To meet the Economy “E” global economic equalization objectives, the system requires global management of trade. Global trade management requires bringing down American production and middle class standards of living. American economic submission and political regionalization is designed to lead to a borderless world. The Trans-Texas Corridor fits this design as a major step toward world governance.

Are Americans ready to throw their fate to the wind? Governor Perry and the D.C. bureaucracy have combined to pull an increasing fast one over Texans and all of America. The battle is building. The war becomes lost otherwise!

Now let’s look at an application of the environmental E in the northwest. The Y2Y “corridor” runs for 2000 miles – From Yukon to Yellowstone. The “region” or Wildland Corridor incorporates hunks of 5 states.

International treaties originating from the UN result in controlling all land use in these Wildland zones. Wildland zones are to be void of people and immune from resource extraction. Owning and operating a ranch in the Y2Y will become more difficult as this takedown effort will persist. Adoption of the Y2Y by the state of Washington failed last month to garner legislative approval. Chalk up a battle victory for the citizens! The war rages.

Another Sustainable global to local battle has been waged in Queensland Australia. There legislation was enacted that:

- Withdrew the state from the Constitution of Australia,
- Negated the common law,
- Outlawed profit on land sales,
- Abolished inheritance rights in land
- And established a private corporation, Brigalow, to manage and control the new government.

Farmers must coordinate their activities with Brigalow under which condition they are awarded the “right” to live on their farm for the rest of their life. Private property in land in abolished. The new system coordinates and implements globalist governance practices. For more, see the exclusive summaries of this vitally important news story go to www.FreedomAdvocates.org and hear our recent Australian interview archived at our radio page.

Finally, the global breakdown of common law is accelerating. This month the Queen of England signed a treaty surrendering British Sovereignty. The treaty was approved by Parliament last month. England is now to become part of the European Union on January 1, 2009. The treaty was narrowly approved by Parliament. The Free World is falling without a shot being fired.

America is planning to create a common defense and trade program and legal harmonization with Canada and Mexico.

Say goodbye to American Sovereignty and the common law. America is falling to the globalist Green Curtain.

Chapter 5.

What Can You Do When Human Liberty Is Under Great Threat?

Inform yourself and others

Cause freedom to become solidly anchored by promoting the ideals of private property. Understand that globalism, uses phony economic principles and denies the concepts of unalienable rights and national sovereignty. Globalism obtains power through the operation of a fiat money system. Modern globalism seeks to establish an enslaving system of world governance. Globalists do this work behind a Green curtain.

When people understand the issues, each person will find their way to contribute to saving America. They will do this for the benefit of the current and future generations.

Sustainable Development is a Global to Local Plan of Action. At this time, our defense of liberty is hard pressed to cause any affect on the US participation in globalist organizations such as:

- The World Bank,
- The International Monetary Fund,
- The Bank of International Settlements,
- The World Trade Organization,
- And the United Nations.

What we can affect is the “Local” implementation of Globalism. Understand what we are up against. Know thy enemy or be defeated.

One method of contribution is to expose local consensus councils. Study and instinct can be used to neutralize the mind numbing séances labeled “charettes”.

Another method is to watch the schools – the curriculum, the philosophy and the Action. Report to parents.

Another is by spreading the word of the Sustainable transformation of America– reporting, distributing, speaking out...

Find the proper circumstances to present this human dilemma to your industry, to your church, your bridge friends and your family. Work for wins – don't count the losses – learn from mistakes. Get prepared – take the field.

Become active and stay alert to the broadening freedom movement. Our website, Freedom Advocates.org exists to assist you to an Understanding of Sustainable Development.

Our common challenge is to spread the word of the American predicament. In order to do that we must become active. As we do, solutions exist and will rise!

Let's take one last look at Sustainable Development's Three E's.

The Three "E's" are better characterized as the "three colors". The first color is red. The Red Coats present society with "Social" or "Communitarian" justice! Next are the Brown Shirts with a fascist economic system euphemistically dubbed "public private partnership" Lastly, working to justify the creation of an ever increasing green police state come the Green Coats.

New systems of justice and economics are being advanced under cover of a political-environmental spirituality. Sustainability is happening:

- Will we lose by default and ignorance?
- Is the human spirit gone?
- Have we been dumbed out?

I do not think so

Some people will suffer regrets when they realize that the threat is real and the party is over. Too many will continue to live in denial. And a few will grow more desperate in pursuit of the Sustainable Development goals.

But people who are committed to Liberty will discover and understand the tyranny behind Sustainable Development:

People can discover

- Self evident truth
- A political system dedicated to individual liberty
- The 10 Commandments or similar moral paths

We can rise to meet the greatest challenge mankind has faced. We can challenge and defeat Sustainable Development.

When we do that we will have protected and preserved mankind's greatest achievement – America's Declaration of Independence.

Long live Freedom!
